

Keep an eye on your health.

Annual eye exams can help detect changes in your vision early on, so you can get prompt treatment and lessen the risk of vision loss.

Diabetic retinopathy is the most common eye complication in diabetic patients and is the leading cause of blindness among adults.¹

Initial symptoms are very slight or even unnoticeable, so diabetic retinopathy often goes undiagnosed. It can, however, be detected during an annual eye exam and treated.

Earn a $50 gift card for completing your eye exam before December 31, 2021.
After your exam, visit priorityhealth.com/smartrewards or call
