Employer Insights

Reporting and consulting you can count on

PriorityHealth

We're creating new ways to help identify solutions that help your population and lower your costs.

Employer Insights is our latest solution in bringing value and transparency to your business, by implementing a committed team of analysts and a refined reporting tool to offer the data you want—how, when and where you want it.

Employer Insights uses an immense amount of streamlined data and puts it in one place so you can spot patterns and trends, identify problems and create cost-effective solutions. Use it to produce the best result for your bottom line and, more importantly, your employees.

With Employer Insights, you can:

Pull data from a single source.

Cut through chaos and get all your data in one place, from one source, that's always there when you need it. Dial in detail to ensure every report includes the precise information you want without having to track down, decipher or consolidate data from additional sources.
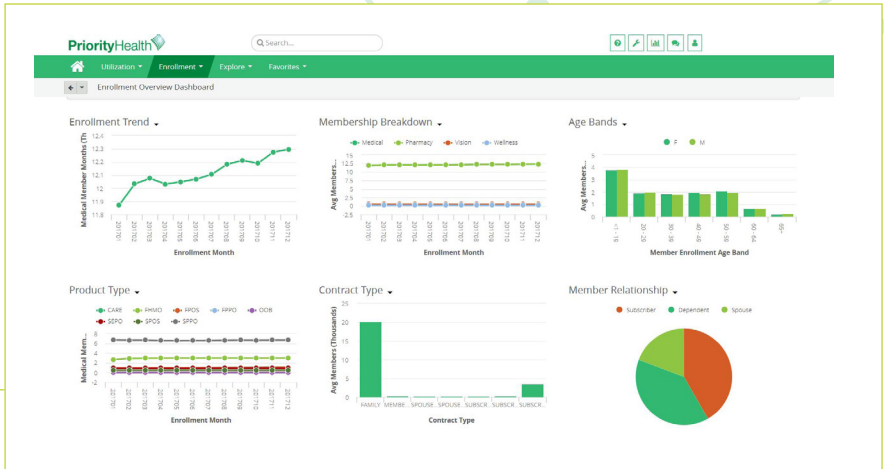

Get faster, more accurate reporting right when you want it.

Gone are the days of waiting for reports that may or may not be current. The new reporting tool makes data collection easy with the most accurate, up-to-the-month reporting capabilities we've ever offered, including flexible timelines that always tie together.

Need a report? Make it, print it—own it—right away.

Reporting experience may vary by funding type.

Identify issues sooner.

Imagine finding red flags in your population's health as they happen so you can proactively resolve problems and save on costs. Now you can set alerts to flag any conditions or claims that might affect the health of your workforce—and bottom line.

Consult with a committed team.

We've invested in our team of analysts who are ready to invest in you; implementing consultative, collaborative services to support your population and business. They'll work with you to spot trends, issues or conditions and discuss ways the best ways to address them.
